^[1] This price is a discount price for a limited time. All fees listed here are reviewed annually and adjusted if necessary.

^[2] This user fee is in addition to the training material user fee in English, which is purchased as a base.

^[3] The cross-certification discount on initial certification is valid until December 31, 2025.

^[4] The price for registering extensions applies to 1-n extensions (set).

^[5] The following discount applies until December 31, 2026: When purchasing two training materials usage fees for ISO/IEC 33061 PAM from Process Expert, Provisional, or Competent Assessor PAM, the training provider receives the complete training material for this model (including upgrade training).

Training provider accreditations and training material usage fees are generally billed for a calendar year. Special discounts marked separately are an exception to this rule.

The package prices for company contracts / group licences are subject to the condition that the licences are applied for within one calendar year.

The Certification Bodies exchange the necessary data to ensure certification per Process Expert or Assessor (only if the certification criteria are met).

The examination fees cover participation in one examination.

The following applies to the accreditation of training organisations:

- These can be accredited for one or more training courses
- The fees apply per training course
- Only certified trainers who are qualified to deliver selected courses are authorised to deliver training. Training courses conducted by trainers who are not certified and qualified for that course will not qualify participants, regardless they whether they pass the exam or not.

The following applies to the training material user fees:

- These apply to one PAM / one guideline / one extension per year.
- Updates of minor baselines are included (e.g. 1.1 -> 1.2)
- Updates of major baselines are not included (e.g. 1.2 -> 2.0)
- No user fees are charged for the combined course Automotive SPICE® 4.0 (Process Expert and Provisional Assessor) if the Training Provider has already purchased the both single fees.

The following applies to training material user fees for translations:

- These apply once for a training course (PAM / Upgrade / Guideline / Extension)
- No user fee due to active participation (creation or review) in the translation
- Updates of minor baselines are included (e.g. 1.1 -> 1.2)
- Updates of major baselines are not included (e.g. 1.2 -> 2.0)
